Empower Your Constituencies To Write Their New Money Story® And In So Doing, Create Wondrous New Lives

David Krueger, M.D., Executive Mentor Coach and renowned Money Psychology Expert and Author offers products and services that speak volumes about your organization's commitment to and caring for its constituencies — Customers, Employees, Management Teams, Senior Executives, Shareholders, and Board Of Directors.

Dr. Krueger helps transform lives and professional performance by enhancing financial and thereby emotional well-being. He co-creates success stories with executives and professionals by synthesizing the insights of psychology, neuroscience, and quantum physics with strategic coaching. His inspirational wisdom brings richness and enjoyment to the process of changing mind software and rewiring brain hardware.

Many of the existing methods to facilitate change are contrary to the way the mind and brain works. From Dr. Krueger's experiences of two decades as a Psychoanalyst, as founder and CEO of two healthcare corporations, and in the last decade as an Executive Mentor Coach, he has created the tools, methods, and principles of the strategic, successful choice architecture of change. Books, CDs, and Workbooks supplement Workshops, Seminars, and Training.

Mentor Path® is an executive coaching, training, publishing, and wellness firm. Honed by over 30 years of professional experience helping exceptional people achieve uncharted dimensions of purpose, passion, and profit, the focus is on helping professionals and executives write the next chapter of their life or business stories.

*Strategy Becomes Destiny
With the Skillful Guidance of Dr. David Krueger*

The ultimate fulfillment of your company's striving for cohesiveness, momentum, and direction.

So many of the methods used to facilitate change are contrary to how the mind works. Executive development and the creation of transformational change require self-knowledge and an understanding of human dynamics. Social and emotional intelligence, refined by understanding how the mind and brain work, offer invaluable contributions to effectiveness and profitability.

Companies that provide—and model—these ingredients of mastery and purpose in cohesive, inspiring environments are dramatically outperforming their competitors. Developmental psychology, neuroscience and strategic coaching combine to form a powerful system and philosophy to inform leadership and catalyze change.

Purpose, a cause greater and more enduring than each individual, is an essential aspect of corporate viability. The effectiveness and experience of mastery of each member of the corporation inform essential ingredients to greatness. Mastery—becoming better at something that matters—has the power for passion and profitability when joined by a united effort inspired by the Executive Team.

Understanding the unique culture, needs, and dynamics of a corporation begins with its Executive Team and Board of Directors. In order to discern the specific challenges and potential, and to customize a uniquely powerful strategic package, Dr. Krueger's process includes:

A meeting with the Senior Executive Team and/or Board of Directors approximately one month prior to presentations.

Facilitation with the Board of Directors (3.5 hours) to unify and direct the purpose of the organization. In select instances, this may be with the Senior Executive Team rather than with the Board of Directors.

A dinner meeting with the Senior Executives and with the Board of Directors with open discussion.

A keynote address on The Secret Language of Money to corporate members and shareholders.

A reception and book signing for The Secret Language of Money provided for each attendee.
